- our service providers, agents and sub-contractors and other persons we use to offer and provide products and services to you.
- courts of law or tribunals.

Reasons we need to process your personal information.

We may use, store and process personal information for purposes permitted by law and which are reasonably necessary for our business activities. These include:

- To provide, improve and develop our services and business

We may use the personal information to provide, improve, and develop the services and our business such as to:

- enable you to access and use the services and our website;
- enable you to communicate with other our staff and service providers where necessary;
- operate, protect, improve, and optimise the services and website and experience, such as by performing analytics and conducting research;
- provide customer service;
- send you service or support messages, updates, security alerts, and account notifications;
- to operate, protect, improve, and optimise the services and website and experience, and personalise and customize your experience; and
- enable your use of our enterprise products.
- We process this personal information for these purposes given our legitimate interest in improving our services, our website and your experience with it, and where it is necessary for the adequate performance of our obligations to you.

- To meet staffing and recruitment needs

We may use the personal information to assist us in meeting staffing and recruitment needs such as to:

- to consider applications for roles and positions;
- to notify you of employment opportunities aligned to your qualifications, skills and experience; and
- for general employment purposes.

- To provide, personalise, measure and improve our advertising and marketing

We may use the personal information to provide, personalise, measure, and improve our advertising and marketing such as to:

- send you promotional messages, marketing, advertising, and other information that may be of interest to you based on your preferences (including information about campaigns and services and social media advertising through social media platforms such as Facebook or Google);
- personalise, measure, and improve our advertising;
- conduct profiling on your characteristics and preferences (based on the information you provide to us, your interactions with us and information obtained from third parties) to send you promotional messages, marketing, advertising and other information that we think may be of interest to you;

We will process your personal information for the purposes listed in this section given our legitimate interest in undertaking marketing activities to offer you products or services that may be of your interest.

- To operate payment services

We may use the personal information as part of services to facilitate payments such as to:

- enable you to access and use the payment services;
- detect and prevent fraud, abuse, security incidents, and other harmful activity;
- conduct checks against databases and other information sources;
- comply with legal obligations (such as anti-money laundering regulations);
- enforce the payment terms and other payment policies;

We will process this personal information given our legitimate interest in improving the payment services and its users' experience with it, and where it is necessary for the adequate performance of the services and to comply with applicable laws.

When how and with whom we share your personal information

In general, we will only share your personal information if any one or more of the following apply:

if you have consented to this.

- if it is necessary to conclude or perform under a contract, we have with you;

- if the law requires it; and / or
- if it's necessary to protect or pursue your, our or a third party's legitimate interest.

Under what circumstances will we transfer your information to other countries?

We will only transfer your personal information to third parties in another country in any one or more of the following circumstances:

- where your personal information will be adequately protected under the other country's laws or an agreement with the third-party recipient.
- where the transfer is necessary to enter into or perform under a contract with you, or a contract with a third party that is in your interest.
- where you have consented to the transfer; and / or
- where it is not reasonably practical to obtain your consent, the transfer is in your interest.

This transfer will happen within the requirements and safeguards of the law. Where possible, the party processing your personal information in the other country will agree to apply the same level of protection as available by law in your country or if the other country's laws provide better protection the other country's laws would be agreed to and applied.

Your duties and rights about the personal information we have about you.

- You must provide proof of identity when enforcing the rights below.

You must inform us when your personal information changes.

Please refer to our Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000 Manual (PAIA Manual) for further information on how you can give effect to the rights listed below. Download the PAIA Manual.

You have the right to request access to the personal information we have about you by contacting us. This includes requesting:

- confirmation that we hold your personal information.
- a copy or description of the record containing your personal information; and
- the identity or categories of third parties who have had access to your personal information.

We will attend to requests for access to personal information within a reasonable time. You may be required to pay a reasonable fee to receive copies or descriptions of records, or information about third parties. We will inform you of the fee before attending to your request.

Please note that the law may limit your right to access information.

You have the right to request us to correct or delete the personal information we have about you if it is inaccurate, irrelevant, excessive, out of date, incomplete, misleading, obtained unlawfully or we are no longer authorised to keep it. You must inform us of your request in writing. Please refer to our PAIA Manual for further information in this regard, like the process you should follow to give effect to this right. It may take up to 15 business days for the change to reflect on our systems. We may request documents from you to verify the change in personal information.

A specific agreement that you have entered into with us may determine how you must change your personal information provided at the time when you entered into the specific agreement. Please adhere to these requirements. If the law requires us to keep the personal information, it will not be deleted upon your request. The deletion of certain personal information may lead to the termination of your business relationship with us.

You may object on reasonable grounds to the processing of your personal information.

We will not be able to give effect to your objection if the processing of your personal information was and is permitted by law; you have provided consent to the processing and our processing done according to your consent or the processing is necessary to conclude or perform under a contract with you.

Where you have provided your consent for the processing of your personal information, you may withdraw your consent. If you withdraw your consent, we will explain the consequences to you. We may proceed to process your personal information even if you have withdrawn your consent if the law permits or requires it. It may take up to 15 business days for the change to reflect on our systems, during this time we may still process your personal information. You must inform us of any objection in writing. Please refer to our PAIA Manual for further information in this regard, like the process you should follow to give effect to this right.

You have a right to file a complaint with us or any Regulator with jurisdiction about an alleged contravention of the protection of your personal information by us. We will address your complaint as far as possible.

How we secure your personal information

- We will take appropriate and reasonable technical and organisational steps to protect your personal information according to industry best practices. Our security measures (including physical, technological, and procedural safeguards) will be appropriate and reasonable. This includes the following:
 - keeping our systems secure (like monitoring access and usage);
 - storing our records securely.
 - controlling the access to our buildings, systems and/or records; and
 - safely destroying or deleting records.

How long do we keep your personal information?

We will keep your personal information for as long as:

- the law requires us to keep it.
- a contract between you and us requires us to keep it.
- you have consented for us keeping it.
- we are required to keep it to achieve the purposes listed in this Privacy Policy.
- we require it for statistical or research purposes.
- a code of conduct requires us to keep it; and / or
- we require it for our lawful business purposes.
